You will recognize this picture as that of our dear friends, Chief Blue and his wife. This is an acknowledgement of your contribution to the fund helping to send Chief Blue and his wife to the Salt Lake Temple and to attend General Conference. They had a wonderful time and are very appreciative of the assistance they received.

With the money received, we purchased for these good people new clothes and everything to wear for their trip, and in addition, we had money left to give them. It was, of course, a great help to these people who are not blessed with a great deal of this world's goods.

May you accept the sincere wishes of the Southern States Mission for bringing happiness and joy to these good people.
